HOW ONGUARD WORKS

UNLIKE TOPICAL SPRAYS, ONGUARD BECOMES PART OF THE FABRIC ITSELF

OnGuard encapsulates every fibre, creating a protective barrier that extends throughout the fabric construction, not just the surface.

This advanced protection helps liquids bead on the surface for easier removal while reducing the chance of spills reaching the upholstery foam beneath.

Unlike topical treatments, OnGuard becomes part of the fabric itself for protection that won't simply wash away.

HOW ONGUARD IS APPLIED

ONGUARD PROTECTS THE ENTIRE FABRIC CONSTRUCTION

STEP 1

SOLUTION IMMERSION

Fabric is fully immersed in the unique OnGuard solution.

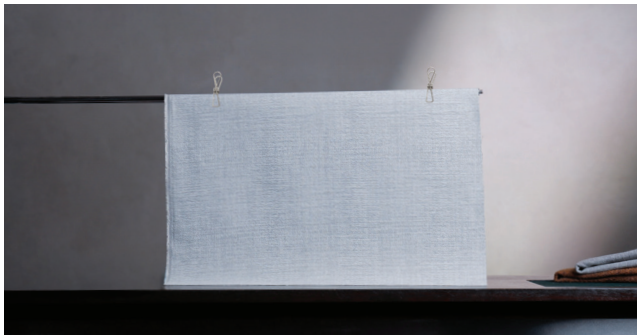

STEP 2

ROLLERS

Ensure every fibre is fully saturated with the treatment.

STEP 3

DRYING

Fabric is carefully dried to prepare for curing.

STEP 4

HEAT CURED

Heat curing permanently cross-links both the stain repellency and antimicrobial chemistry.

WHY WATER-BASED MATTERS

BETTER FOR YOUR HOME

Safe for people and pets.

Water-based.

Non-toxic.

BETTER FOR THE ENVIRONMENT

Free from PFOA and PFOS chemicals. These chemicals belong to the PFAS family, commonly known as “forever chemicals” due to their persistence in the environment.

Choosing OnGuard supports a more environmentally conscious approach to fabric protection.

CARE & PERFORMANCE

ONGUARD MAKES CARING FOR YOUR FABRIC SIMPLE

EASY SPOT CLEANING

1. Absorb the spill immediately. Use an absorbent towel to soak up as much liquid as possible. Tip: Fold a sheet of paper towel and press the corner gently into the spill. Watch it draw the liquid up from the fabric.
2. Blot away excess moisture. Gently dab the area with a clean white cloth. Avoid rubbing the spill further into the fabric.
3. Add water. Spray a small amount of water onto the affected area.
4. Use soap. Gently apply a small amount of white household soap.
5. Work gently. Dab in light circular motions with a white cloth to help lift the stain. Never scrub the fabric aggressively.
6. Air dry naturally. Leave the area to dry naturally and avoid applying direct heat, as this can damage the fabric.
